

Top two pursue computer science

By Olivia Schaffer

This year's valedictorian and salutatorian are Anna Little and JJ Hackenburg.

"You gotta play the game to win the game," Little said.

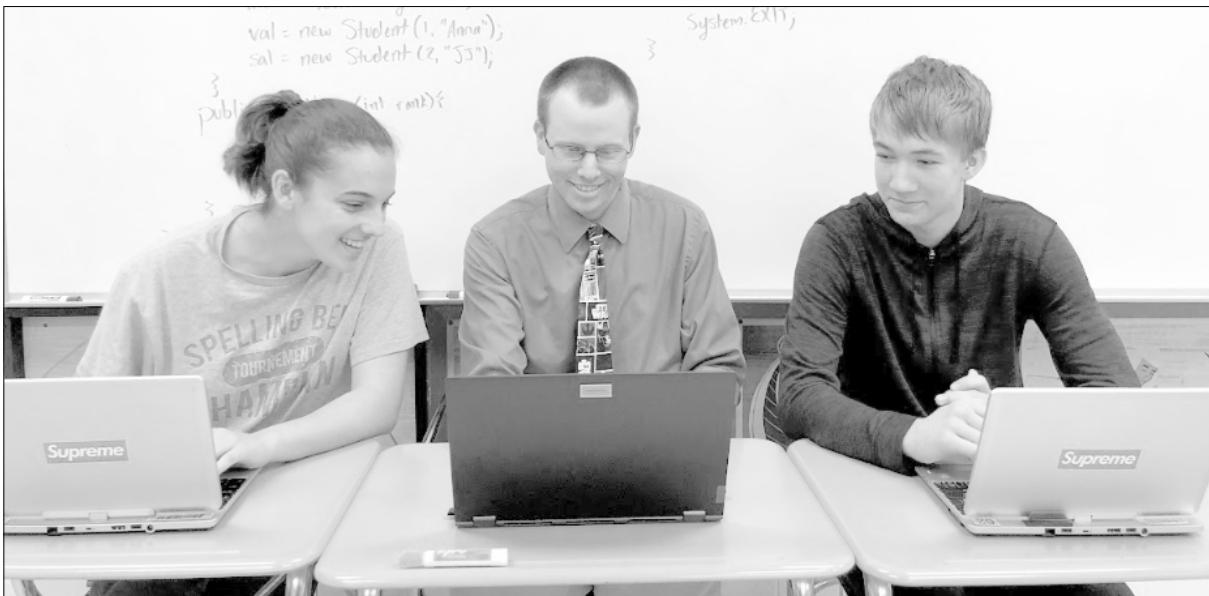

Her motivation for becoming first in the class was her brother, Noah Little, who graduated in 2015 and finished second in his class. She said that she has always been competitive with him and felt like she had to beat him.

To earn the highest GPA of the senior class, Little said that she did a lot of studying and spent a lot of time crying, adding that Hackenburg was her competition and she took GSW (college writing) to boost her GPA.

Hackenburg said that after he found out he was third in the class, he wanted to try for second.

"There wasn't a chance I was going to beat her," Hackenburg said.

He added that his hardest class throughout high school was AP

Class of 2019 valedictorian and salutatorian Anna Little and JJ Hackenburg practice programming with math teacher Chris Higgins. Both students said AP Computer Science was their favorite class throughout high school and both will major in a computer-related subject.

Photo by Olivia Schaffer

Calculus because of math teacher Chris Higgins's expectations and challenges.

Little said AP United States History was the most difficult for her because the teacher changed halfway through the school year.

Both students said that AP Computer Science was their favorite subject because it was a class that clicked for them.

"Thanos was a big role model. I had to work hard just like him," Hackenburg said.

Little said she would like to thank Higgins and English teacher Leah Schuster for making school worth it.

In addition to having the top grade point average in the class of 2019, Little participated in Teen Leadership Corps, National Honor Society, United Fund, swimming, golf, track, musical, Firelands Challenge and select choir. She said that in her free time, she does puzzles and watches television.

Hackenburg participated in cross country, Firelands Challenge, Foreign Language and newspaper. He said that when he is not studying, he plays video games and reads.

Next year Little will attend the United States Air Force Academy and plans to graduate with a degree in computer engineering. After college, she said she wants to either become a pilot or earn a master's degree.

Hackenburg will attend The Ohio State University's honors college and will major in computer science and engineering. He said he hopes to have a career in computer science and work in Silicon Valley.

His advice to underclassmen is not to stress too much about studying. Little's advice is that if you want to be first in the class, you have to work hard, grind and study.

Griffith and Blanton crowned royalty

By Keeanne Steele

Seniors Gavin Blanton and Morgan Griffith were crowned Prom King and Queen May 11 at Lyman Harbor in Sandusky.

Blanton said he did not expect to be crowned and said he was shocked when his name was announced. He added that he loved being there with everyone as a last gathering for the senior class.

Blanton has mixed feelings about leaving high school.

"It's bittersweet and I'm going to miss some parts," he said.

Blanton will be attending the University of Akron to study computer science.

Griffith said it felt "weird" to be crowned. She said her favorite part at prom was when Principal Brad Cooley took photos at the photo booth.

Griffith has mixed feelings about leaving high school.

"I'm a little sad and nervous but really excited," she said.

Griffith will be attending BGSU Firelands.

Photo courtesy of the Norwalk Reflector
Prom Queen and King Morgan Griffith and Gavin Blanton pose after winning their crowns.

Remembering Margaret

By Kristina Toczek

Margaret Swanbeck will have a chair saved for her at graduation with a flower crown in her memory.

Swanbeck was supposed to graduate with the rest of the class of 2019, but she passed away Nov. 9, 2016, from a severe case of Stevens-Johnson syndrome. She was involved with many art classes, the marching band and swam on the swim team freshman year.

Swanbeck liked Oberlin College and looked into the school before her passing. She worked at Plum Brook, a banquet hall, during the summer of 2016 to save up for a car and eventually college.

Swanbeck will never be forgotten by her classmates, friends and family due to the impact she left on their hearts in the short amount of time she had with them.

Graduation information

By Morgan Risner and Keeanne Steele

Graduation will be at 3 p.m. May 26 in the high school's main gym.

The choir will sing "Until We Meet Again." Anna Little, valedictorian, JJ Hackenburg, salutatorian, Morgan Griffith, president of the senior class, and Principal Brad Cooley will speak.

The mandatory run-through of graduation will be at 11 a.m. May 24. All seniors must arrive by 2:15 p.m. on graduation day.

Seniors will receive 10 tickets and they may be able to get more if there are any extras, guidance counselor Michelle Sandor said.

Baccalaureate is a religious service honoring the graduating class. This service is happening at 7 p.m. on May 23 in the art gallery at the high school.

At baccalaureate, select choir students sing with all seniors in choir. Seniors and their families celebrate. The Rev. Amy Little and the Rev. Eric Lapata will speak.

CLASS INFO

- Class Colors- Dark blue and silver
- Class Flower- Rose
- Class Motto- "Your time is limited, so don't waste it living someone else's life. Don't let the noise of others' opinions drown your own inner voice. And most important, have the courage to follow your heart and intuition."
- Class Song- "Good Old Days" by Macklemore and Kesha

Senior superlatives

Check out which seniors won superlatives on pages 6-8.

Seniors in sports

Seniors say goodbye to their high school sports on pages 18-21.

Seniors and sibs

Seniors pose with their high school siblings on pages 28-31.

Thank you for the memories

By Olivia Schaffer

They aren't kidding when they say it goes fast. Walking into freshman year with my two best friends from middle school, I thought the next four years would be the longest of my life. But really, time flew.

They say high school will be the best four years of your life. For me, it has simultaneously been the best and the worst. I went from a shy freshman who wouldn't talk to anyone to a senior who gets involved with anything she can.

Norwalk High School has given me so many memories: cheering on our football team to the final four, seeing Mr. Pigman get tased at Dance Marathon my freshman year, the infamous hill prank, and fist bumping Mr. Cooley after our basketball team beat Ontario in three overtimes this past season.

Even though I feel like I have made the most of my time at NHS, I am sad to leave and I know I will miss every part of it. I will miss everything from the hours of homework I have every night, to the freezing football games, to all of my teachers who have made an impact on my life and to every single one of the friends I have made the past four years.

Right now I am especially missing one of our friends who will not be able to graduate with us. Cesar Gonzalez should be finishing his senior year, going to prom and walking across the stage in a cap and gown. He won two Ohio Scholastic Media Association awards for newspaper and I am so proud of the hard work that he put into any project that came his way.

Being on the Trucker Imprint staff has allowed me to make memories throughout high school that I will never forget. Some of

"I will always be a Trucker..."

-Olivia Schaffer

my favorite parts have been our yearly trips to Kent State, endless laughs with my best friends and getting to interview people I normally wouldn't talk to.

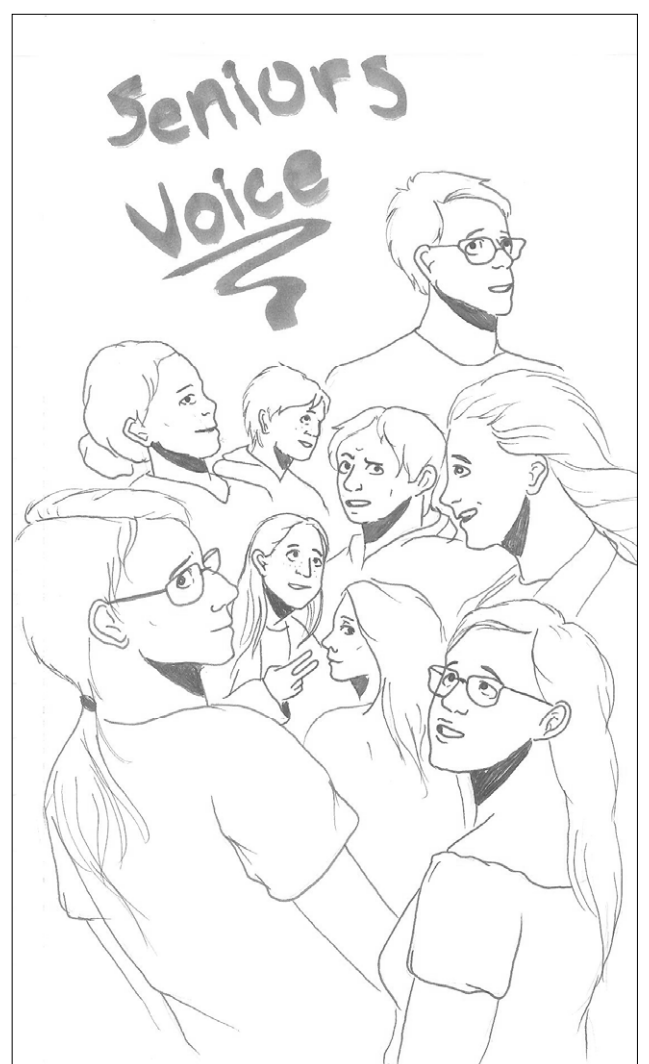

To Mrs. Leffler, thank you for always believing in all of us and encouraging us even when the senioritis is at a high. To my fellow newspaper seniors, I wish nothing but happiness for you in the future and success in whatever you do, especially Madisyn, Evan, Mascie and Kristina, who I am so grateful to have become close with and who I will miss so much next year.

I would like to thank all of my teachers for playing a role in the person I am today. Hearing Mr. Higgins say "here we go Truckers" before calc tests, Mrs. Schuster always pushing me to be a better writer and Mrs. Chandler staying positive when AP Bio gets hard are all things that have kept me sane my senior year.

To underclassmen, I know you hear this every year, but get involved! There is so much more to high school than classes, tests and homework. There is no reason not to enjoy high school and make the most of it.

What I have learned the past four years is that the only person

Cartoon by Cale Ours

you need to impress is yourself and that it doesn't matter what people think of you. Also, staying up all night to study is not the way to get that A+.

Even though I am beyond excited to be a Buckeye next year, I will always be a Trucker and will remember the good times and memories I made here.

The journey is coming to an end

By Micah Duncan

Ah yes, these past four years of high school. They have been quite the journey, and that journey is coming to an end.

People say that these are the best four years of your life and that it only goes downhill from here. And I feel there is some element of truth to that.

Although there are struggles and hardships throughout high school, we get to enjoy ourselves and have fun without many of the adult responsibilities awaiting us after we graduate.

Your time here is what you make of it, good or bad.

Something I would stress to underclassmen is to join a club, sport or some sort of extracurricular activity. There are so many to choose from and I'm sure that there is something for everyone. If there isn't, all you have to do is make one.

Even though I was not the best at running, I participated in cross country all four years of high school, and I am grateful for the experience.

I did not join swim until my junior year and for that I will always be a little disappointed. I am glad that I decided to join because it was so much fun, and it turned out I was actually pretty good. I just wish I would've joined sooner.

Besides sports, there are other activities to join such as musical.

I joined musical my freshman year because I had watched my brothers perform when I was in fourth grade, so I had been looking forward to it since then. It was so much fun, and I'm grateful to have been given the chance to be a lead my sophomore and senior years.

The musical program has giv-

"Your time here is what you make of it, good or bad."

-Micah Duncan

en me a family that I will be eternally grateful for, and friendships that will last a lifetime.

If there is one thing I would recommend to everyone, it would be to join the musical. It is an experience you will never forget.

But now my journey here at NHS is coming to an end, and my new journey at OSU will begin. There are some people I would like to thank for guiding me to become the person I am today.

First to Mrs. Mason: thank you for taking me in freshman year with open arms and teaching me so much about music and leadership. Being your choir president and working with you this year has been an experience that I will always carry with me.

And also to Mr. Higgins: thank you for rekindling my love for math and for bringing out the best in me. I can always go to you for advice and guidance, and I am very grateful for it. I look forward to visiting and having great discussions in the future.

As this last chapter of high school comes to a close, it is a bittersweet moment. I am sad to be leaving my friends, but am excited to start a new chapter.

So long for now Norwalk; Columbus is calling my name.

Find friends to tag along for the ride

By Kristina Toczek

During high school, it is important to surround yourself with good people. Being a teenager naturally comes with the pressure to fit into a group and wanting to feel like you belong somewhere, but choosing the wrong one could cause trouble and bad decisions.

In middle school, everyone has a few close friends, but when you get to high school, it's hard to stay connected. Sports clubs and the large variety of classes allow you to meet upperclassmen and maybe drift away from your old friends. There is a cliché that states, "you won't walk out of high school with the same people you walked in with" but personally, that is not true.

I have been blessed with a great group of best friends, but we have definitely had our ups and downs. They remind me to stop worrying and being stupid, while also not letting me act dumb alone. Real friends come through during the darkest times and create a stronger bond and they have become my sisters.

We are all going our separate ways and are about to start adulthood. In a few short months, we won't be able to run down to Circle K at midnight for slushies or spend the weekend taking turns which house we stay at. We won't be able to scream our favorite songs while driving the back country roads. We won't get yelled at for being too loud in the basement or making a mess in the kitchen. All those memories will be labeled as high school and we'll only be able to look back on those times.

We'll keep in touch with social media, group FaceTime calls and then we'll meet again during breaks and although it won't be the same, I know we'll stay in each others' lives somehow, some way. I've been hanging out with the same girls since I was 11 years old.

I recommend finding your go-to group of friends like mine. Four years flies by so fast when you have a great group of people by your side for the ride.

Editor-in-Chief:
Mascie Horner

Editors:
News: Kristina Toczek
Features: Olivia Schaffer
Entertainment: Leighton Steele
Sports: Madisyn Alt
Photo: Brenna Mock

Reporters:

Laila Bussert
Micah Duncan
Evan Gaston
Savannah Grant-Bell
JJ Hackenburg
Ben Johnson
Cale Ours
Jayda Ramos
Morgan Risner
Keeanne Steele

Adviser: Debbie Leffler

Sophomore says goodbye

By Evan Gaston

After the class of 2019 graduates, some of my best friends will be off to college and I may be forced to actually talk to, and hang out with, new people. Some of those seniors include Madisyn Alt, Mascie Horner, Kristina Toczek and Olivia Schaffer. I have known Madisyn since we were little kids but we never got close until my freshman year.

On my first day of high school, thankfully I had a study hall with Madisyn because I was confused on where to go and I also didn't have many classes with my friends. At lunch I sat with Madisyn and her friends that I didn't know. Those people that I didn't know, are now my best friends and always will be. I'm not sure why I was so scared to get out of my comfort zone and meet new people but I was.

The only people I knew at lunch were Madisyn, Cesar Gonzalez (that I already knew from being on the soccer team and practicing together all summer) and Isaac Scheel. The others that sat at the table were Mascie Horner, Kristina Toczek, Olivia Schaffer, Lexi Gendron and Elyse Balduff. Eventually we all just started to hang out outside of school and when this group was together, it was always a fun time.

Now these aren't the only friends I have made so far in high school, just some of my favorites. Not only did I become close with these people, but I also became close with their families, which is in my opinion important. Countless late nights were spent with these friends.

Often I think about how my life would be without these friends in it, and how I would get by without them.

The fact is, I did just fine before I met them, but my life is just that much greater with them in it and I don't want it to go back to how it was.

Many people say "High school is the best four years of your life," and now I understand why. We get to create bonds and memories that will last a lifetime.

I have to thank Madisyn for introducing me to all of these wonderful people and watching over me and giving me advice. You're a great friend and you would do anything for anyone and that is what makes you such a great person. You have made these first two years of high school bearable for me and I wish you, and everyone else graduating, good luck in your futures and remember, everything happens for a reason.

Seniors give advice to underclassmen

Interviews by Mascie Horner; photos by Ben Johnson and Morgan Risner

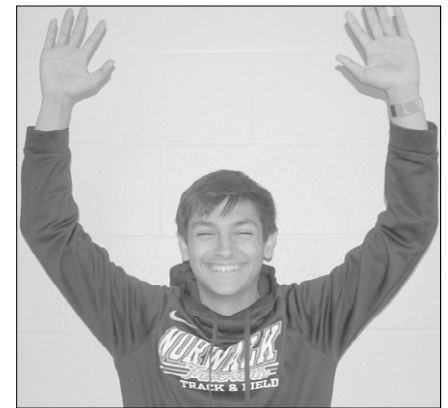

Anah Freeman

"Challenge yourself. Most of the time you can do it, even when you think you can't."

Tche Leroux

"Enjoy it because it flies by."

Robert Vazquez

"If you're going to be late, don't come at all. Saturday school is a waste of time."

Charles Knott

"If there's something you want to do, just do it."

Abby Kessler

"Don't stress yourself out too much."

Macy Chapin

"Take a study hall."

Underclassmen tell who they will miss the most

Compiled by Jayda Ramos

Freshmen:

Shala Ramos: Ramon Negrete because he is funny and has huaraches.

Adrian Bellamy: Zach Ballard because he kinda looks like a TMNT.

Makenna McGhee: Drew Yourkvitch because he's funny and a good friend.

Alexander Mierzwinski: Michael Myers because we've gotten closer and he is the coolest senior I know.

Lupe Zamano: Austin Norris because we have been on our grind these past few weeks.

Dezi Hernandez: Addison Maurer because she has a great heart and a great step sibling.

Trenton Dailey: Ramon Negrete because he was nice to me in football season.

Katharine Doyle: Mary Moore because she is always a delight to see in choir.

Erica Johnson: Abby Marchione because she was incredibly nice despite me being an underclassman.

Alaina Hughes: Sydney Hughes because she is a great cousin and softball player.

Sophomores

Noelle Jackson: Emily Berry because she is berry sweet and I don't know how I will survive golf or bowling without her.

Brooke Lau: Kristina Toczek because she is a great role model and inspiration. I've always looked up to her.

Noah Butz: Abby Kessler because she is the head of our baritone section.

Grace Wagner: Collin Wagner because he is my brother and high school and home will be different without him.

Kelsey Dickerson: Rachel Lamb because she is so sweet and kind. She always helped me out in marketing class and made me laugh a ton. I will miss her lots and I am so lucky to have met her.

Lexey Bleile: Mary Moore because she is very kind and a good friend.

Kaiti Wenzel: Abby Marchione and Laila Bussert because they are my girls and we're a squad.

Connie Graves: Gabe Morrow because he's my best friend and he means so much to me.

Jazlyn Woods: Gabe Morrow because he's like a big brother to me. Ima miss having him around.

Jon Harris: Anah Freeman because she is always joyful and makes the most out of everything.

Garrett Weisenberger: Chris Mohr because he is my cousin.

Madison Pelham: Mary Moore because she always listened to my stories, and I listened to hers.

Elena Barber: Mascie Horner because she is an amazing friend and basketball will never be the same without her.

Justin Seitz: Olivia Schaffer because she's my personal taxi.

Douglas Ortner: Zidane McCanny because he keeps it real.

Cadence Scott: Charles Knott because he is a very good friend.

Wyatt Hale: Robert (Bobby) Vasquez because of his kind and supportive personality.

Legend McGrady: Halle Bissell because foods class was super fun together and I'll miss pretending we're the next Guy Fieri's.

Meadow Muratori: Abby Marchione because she is incredibly sweet, kind, and caring with a big heart.

Brenna Burras: Mary Moore because she made classes fun and I loved her high school stories.

Alexa Moore: Jalyn Moore because I look up to her and she always has my back.

Juniors

Allison Fry, Jake Sommers, Sydnee Patterson: Madison Cummings because GSW "family" and her sweet heart.

Carissa Link: Callie Link because she is the only alarm clock annoying enough to get me out of bed in the morning.

Kailani Ilg: Rachel Lamb because we found each other when we didn't know we needed to.

Bree McGlaston: Marshall Myers because he's the sweetest, goofiest person I know.

Ashley Kovac: Owen Moore because I need his awful criticism to stay level headed.

Crimson Stuckert: Anah Freeman because of her fork earrings.

Sam Neuberger: Micah Duncan because he has been my role model to become a better singer and actor.

Jocelyn Saucedo: Macy Love because of her contagious laughter.

Ramos reminisces on relationship

By Jayda Ramos

Coming to the high school was a scary thing for me, but senior Brenna Mock made it a better experience. I have known Brenna for about five years and she has been like a big sister to me. She has never judged me for the things I do and I know I can trust her with anything. My life has been great with Brenna in it and I am glad I can call her my best friend.

Brenna is graduating this year and attending Ashland University in August. Words cannot describe how proud I am of her. She has matured a lot from when I met her to now. Not having Brenna in the school with me is going to be hard. I have no idea what I am going to do without her next year.

Brenna was the reason I joined newspaper. I've decided to stay in it even though she is leaving. I have grown close to her and I'm glad I took this class because we spent more time with each other and she always helped me with all of my work that I needed to get done.

I am going to miss our countless laughs and our Kent State trips together. Time really does fly; it feels like it was just yesterday we were texting about what we should wear on our first day of school. I cannot wait for my best friend to go off to college and be super successful in life.

I remember every time that I would come over I would always make her do my makeup because I believe she's just honestly amazing when it comes to things like that. Even though she made my eyebrows super thick all the time I still loved it because I did not look like a little boy anymore. I really am going to miss days like that.

Most importantly, I'm going to miss our football Fridays. I remember the first football game we went to, I would always run around and just randomly fall in front of people and she would record it. I don't think we started actually watching them play football till this school year; we just wanted to go to the games because we were bored and had nothing better to do on Friday nights.

To Brenna: I am so happy I got to be with you for half of your high school experience.

You've never given up to get where you are now. I know you're going to have an amazing time in college doing what you love most. Even if we won't be near each other, you'll always have me. I cannot wait to come visit you or you to come visit me. I hope you spent your four years in the high school the way you wanted to. I will make sure my last two years are the best and I will literally tell you everything about them and I hope you share how your college experience is going for you. Thank you for making my first two years unforgettable and helping me with every little rough patch I have gone through.

Submitted Photo
Senior Brenna Mock and sophomore Jayda Ramos hanging out with Snoopy at Cedar Point three summers ago. Mock and Ramos have been friends for about five years.

Not only will I miss you, but I know my mom and sister will too. I hope you make many memories and meet great people in college. Good luck at Ashland University!

Steele thanks seniors of Imprint staff

By Leighton Steele

In my time in Trucker Imprint I have met some amazing people. This editorial staff holds a special place in my memories of this class. It's been such a great year -- working in the hallway, laughing at each other and putting something important out to the school. You all have made such an impact on this school being a part of the newspaper staff.

Between trying to figure out the issue of the issue, struggling with layout and helping each other out with what to do with something, it has been really great working with you all. I want to say thank you to each senior editor. It has been a great time with you all.

Thank you to Olivia Schaffer for always being professional and making me realize that you can have fun in this class, or in general, but you should be serious first. Everyone should be like this; it's how life actually is. I appreciate that you have set an amazing example of this. It's something I plan to take with me.

Thank you to Madisyn Alt. I'm glad that I got to know you more than I used to. Your sweetness to some people is admirable and I love that. I hope that others see that too. It is a wonderful trait that others should get from you.

Thank you to Mascie Horner. You have always held up this class as our chief. It has been great to watch you be a leader.

Thank you for calming me down before running the 200 a couple of times. It made me feel like I could run better.

Thank you to Kristina Toczek. You made being a layout editor bearable and the class a bit more fun. Your school spirit has put everyone else's to shame. You are such a big supporter of those around you and it is an amazing quality.

Cartoon by Cale Ours

Thank you to Brenna Mock. You have always been the sweetest person to everyone around you. You have always made me laugh and cheered me up throughout our short time as friends. I'm so lucky to have created a friendship with you that I will cherish.

Thank you to Lacey Tatum. We have always messed around and your sarcastic attitude has always rubbed off on me in so many ways. You have always made my day better when I was in a bad mood with your sarcasm.

And thank you to Cesar Gonzalez. You have always made Newspaper full of laughter. I'll never forget all the jokes you have told. They lightened the spirit of the class, and made it less stressful.

Thank you all for being such an amazing staff and teaching so many things to everyone. It's going to be different without all of you here. I will miss hearing you guys make jokes, eating at our pizza parties, and joking around in the hallway.

Over the past two years it has been a privilege to work on the paper with you and watching you grow into the adults you are going to be.

I hope the best for every one of you. I know you all will end up doing great things after you leave this portion of your life.

Good luck out there. You'll do amazing things.

Grant-Bell says goodbye to some seniors

By Savannah Grant-Bell

So here we go. It is time I share my feelings on my high school career up until now with the seniors. To start, I would like to say how much a majority of the seniors have impacted my life, and for that I will always be thankful.

Now as I sit at my desk in newspaper class wondering how I am going to write about all I have been through with them, tears form in my eyes.

I came into the high school a shy and nervous girl, terrified to make eye contact with anyone because I was afraid no one would like me. I wandered the halls looking at the groups of friends clustering in the hallways and being overwhelmed with the loud noises they all made. I did not know it then, but throughout my three years I would make wonderful friends and meet the love of my life.

It has not always been easy with these seniors. There have been tears, laughs, hugs, concerts, dances, pizza parties and naps. It is easy to say I do not know where I would be without them. High school is a big journey and I would not have been able to survive it without my friends or boyfriend.

I have many senior friends but there are a few I need to point out: Lacey Tatum, Brenna Mock, Caitlyn Duncan, Alyssa Walsh, Laila Bussert, Jady Miller and Charles Knott. These individuals are part of a group of amazing seniors. Each of them has made me laugh on the bad days, and given me friendly advice, funny memories, tears and joy.

I will always remember the Kent State trips with my newspaper girls and all the photos that we took. Newspaper will truly not be the same without the rest of our group but I wish the best for my girls to succeed and accomplish great things. I will strive to be as great a journalist as they are.

Last but not least, my amazing boyfriend, Sterling Southers. I wish him the best in college. He and I have been through so much and he has taught me many things.

Surviving senior year will not be the same without him. I will miss seeing his handsome face every morning and knowing that he will make my day better. I hope for us that college will never split us up, but I know we will have a lot to do in order to make sure that never happens.

In the end I would just like to say... Congratulations seniors. You have made it, every single one of you, and I could not be more proud. I cannot wait to see what the future holds for you all...Goodbye.

Senior Superlatives

Workaholic

Ilaya Edington & Micah Duncan

Heartbreaker

Marly Geretz & Vince Lopez

Class Clown

Connor Johnson & Lexi Gendron

Drama King & Queen

Owen Moore & Kristina Toczek

Bromance

Derek Rogers & Michael Myers

BFFs

Mascie Horner & Madisyn Alt

Mr. & Mrs. Fitness

Tche Leroux & Alyssa Faley

Senior Superlatives

Best Dressed

Alyssa Faley & Austin Norris

Cutest Couple That Never Was

Morgan Griffith & Marshall Myers

Most Likely to Ride a Horse to School

Austin Brown & Lindsay Rinner

Most Likely to Sell Herbalife

Emily Berry & Matthew Herner

Most Likely to Leave Norwalk Forever

Anna Little & Robert Vazquez

Biggest Blonde

Ben Traczek & Devin Marshall

Senior Superlatives

Most High Maintenance

Alyssa Faley & Owen Moore

Most Gardies

Morgan Griffith & Micah Duncan

Can't Live Without Coffee

Maya Long & Deyer Graffice

Most Likely to Change the World

Ethan Lindenberger & Anna Little

Best Twitter

Trevon Raymore & Lexi Gendron

Selfie King & Queen

Ben Traczek & Kristina Toczec

Superlative tabulation by Mascie Horner
Photos by Morgan Risner, Mascie Horner & Kristina Toczec